Exquisite TOUCHES

PRESENTATION JOY!

Wrapping is a joy - for the gift recipient but for me, too. It's a different kind of creating - using chosen papers, objects and details that fit that particular person or situation. In June, I produced a series of curated gift tags; packages of 4 were included in guest gift bags at Boston Common's Best of the City event.

EVENT DESIGN AND PLANNING: WHY I LOVE IT

Creating an in-person experience that is unique to the hosts and also to the guests through a thoughtful, dependable, tempo process is the best feeling. The number of moving parts are many, as most know. But there are also untold numbers of nuanced decisions, opportunities and ideas that are sure to make any event the most memorable, meaningful and warm for all - folding those into the process and the planning is my favorite part.

A SUMMER OF PLANNING AND PRODUCTION

June, July and August were filled with planning and execution. Projects included producing two events for Modern Luxury/Boston Common, held at the International Tennis Hall of Fame and Granite Links Country Club; a fantastic wedding in late July at Waverly Oaks Golf Club as well as an interactive presentation by Betty White stamp illustrator Dale Stephanos at the Spellman Museum. Every touch this summer was special, unique and prepared with the guest experience in mind.
